1 Make the template

- Cut the paper along the line you just made.

2 Cut the fabric

- Transfer the template to your fabric using pencil or the chalk.
- Cut the fabric.

3 Single hem on the angled side

- Lay the fabric down as shown in the picture.
- Fold over the angled side and secure it with pinss.
- Sew the hem.

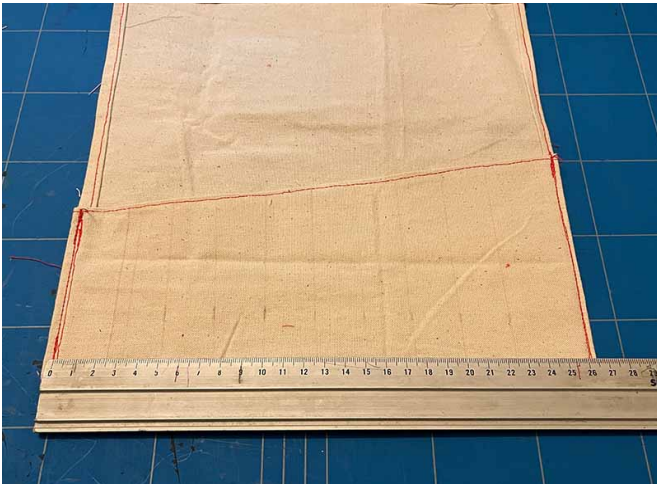

4 Double hem on the other sides

● These sides will be visible when the roll is done. That's why we give them a double hem.

- Fold the other sides over twice and pin them in place.
- Sew the double hem.

5 Sew the sides

- Fold the angled side over so that the hem faces the inside.
- Sew the sides together.

6 Sew the dividers

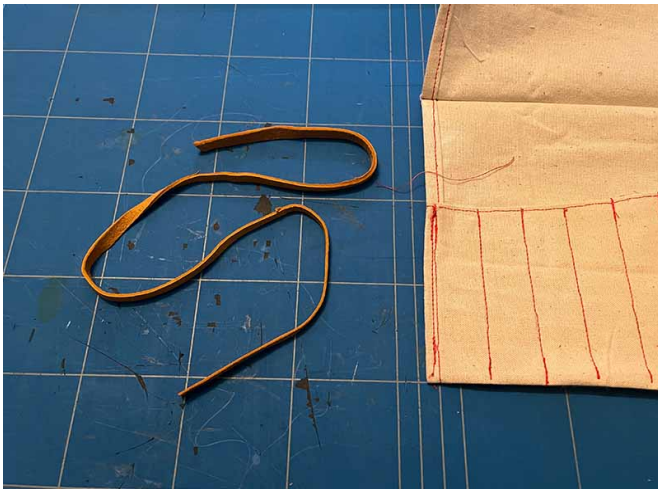

- Mark the places where you want your dividers to be.
- Sew the dividers. You don't have to cut the thread every time you start a new line, you can cut them all at the end.

7 Sew the top fold

- Fold the top down and sew a line about 5mm from the top. This will make the fabric fold down easier.

8 Attach the leather strip

- Cut off a thin strip of the leather to act as string.
- Sew the middle of the string to one of the sides of the tool-roll.

9 Done

- Fill your roll with your tools and you're all done!.
